

To Whom it May Concern:

The Indian Students' Association is a non-profit club, which is a part of the University of Calgary. The Indian Students' Association is pleased to inform you about the South Asian Youth Newcomers Advocacy Scholarship (SAYNA). The Indian Students' Association aims to promote the celebration of culture, identity, community, charity and awareness of social issues. We recognize that newcomers (immigrants and refugees) to Canada experience many unique challenges when adapting to a new society. We would like to give community members a chance to share their experiences, as well as foster leadership.

This essay competition welcomes secondary (high school) and post-secondary (university, college, etc.) students to submit an essay on an experience that they faced as a first/second generation immigrant student in Canada that has helped them to stay intact with their culture and values. By sharing these stories, we hope to inspire youth.

The application package can be found at <https://www.isaucalgary.com/sayna-201819/>. We would like to request that you circulate this information amongst your students.
